The Chairman's Note

We embark upon yet another academic season and this time around, we are proud to do so along with our new Pre-Schools and Child Care centres that have been added to our repertoire. This has enabled us to nurture many more young learners while providing exemplary early years care and education.

Our brand new Child Care centre at Bagmane Tech Park presents itself as a first of its kind facility in the city of Bengaluru which has recently also seen the addition of a new Vivero International Pre-School and Child care centre at Global Technology Park. In the city of Pune, our Pre-School and Child care centre at Kalyani Nagar has found a brand new location to everyone's delight and joy.

Meanwhile, as our Vivero family extends and enlarges in every aspect, our 'Alumni' have also reached new places, new heights.

To ensure that we meet with every challenge of a fresh academic season, like every year the few weeks before schools opened, all teachers and caregivers came together for a thorough Orientation and Refresher training to realign their core mission and purpose. Special emphasis has been laid to educate them on the details of POCSO (Protection of Children against Sexual Offences Act) and POSH (Prevention of Sexual Harassment) in addition to the basics of First Aid and Fire Safety regulations. Again, the best interests and well-being of the child is of paramount importance to us, and it is our constant endeavour to provide an environment conducive to the healthy, physical, emotional, intellectual and social development of the child. This was followed by an interactive Parents Orientation to provide a platform to parents where they could understand what to expect and how the school would effectively partner in the learning journey of the child.

Vivero has always taken pride in maintaining a robust partnership with the parent community since the beginning. This is an integral feature of the Reggio Emilia philosophy through which we strive to connect the home and the school by a common vision of creating global citizens and passionate life long learners. We are ever grateful for the increasing community of 'Friends of Vivero' and we hope to make this teamwork as fruitful as always.

Prepping for the New Academic Year

Teachers Training

At Vivero we recognise the importance to update, upgrade and equip our staff with the best practices for Pre-School and Child Care regularly. Teachers and Caregivers at Vivero International are trained periodically to ensure that they learn and develop into the best version of their professional selves through the Academic Year. The start of a new year is always marked by an in-depth Academic Refresher Training in order to reflect and learn from the past years and also to hone our awareness about new learnings in the field of early years education. We also believe that the new team of facilitators joining us on board at the start of an Academic Session should be in sync with our philosophy, policies and processes. This year, Vivero facilitators at all the training centres discussed the new initiatives that were introduced to the children. They talked about how we can look at novel ways to work with concepts like Technology, Culinary, Entrepreneurship, Civic Management, Creative Writing and Student Led conferences. As they set to embark upon an adventurous new session, they also brainstormed on how to enhance these topics through the year's curriculum. Ideas were presented on how to help children learn and explore through experiences even better. Facilitators were introduced to different topics through appropriate environment setup, collaborative learning, group projects, sharing experiences across schools and hands-on-learnings. The mutual enthusiasm to share the children's learning process just proved the fact that we are on the right path into shaping responsible global citizens and passionate lifelong learners who are prepared for the 21st Century.

It is indeed a delight to watch teachers make meaningful connections and set about preparing for the year ahead.

Support Staff Training

At Vivero, Our Support Staff forms the backbone of the daily pre-school and childcare routine. It is therefore of utmost importance that they also receive the best of training and orientation in order to keep them abreast with the latest best practices and safety/hygiene guidelines that are crucial for Early Childhood Care.

The support staff across all our Pre-Schools and Child Care Centres gathered together for an interactive session planned in the cities of Pune, Mumbai, Bangalore and Hyderabad. The major topics that were covered focused on the Policies and Practices that are followed at Vivero keeping the Image of the Child at the center as per our core philosophy. The caregivers were then given a step-by-step induction on the following:

- Appropriate Roles and Responsibilities * Individual Soft Skills * Self-Care and Grooming * Work Ethics
- Safety, Security and Hygiene at School including Classrooms, Pantry, School vans and Public Areas
- Deep cleaning of resources
- Administering basic First Aid to children & Diaper changing procedure

POCSO (Protection of Children Against Sexual Offences) & POSH (Prevention of Sexual Harassment) Training

Vivero International, recently organized training sessions on POCSO and POSH Acts for all the staff members (teachers, management and support staff) across all their schools pan India. The session was conducted by professionals who made the school staff aware of sexual harassment of women at workplace and the need for an organization to have an internal committee to handle such issues. The trainers also educated the staff on the protection of children from sexual offenders. They emphasized on teaching children about safe touch and unsafe touch and how to use the – NO! GO! TELL! model. Details of the POCSO and POSH acts were outlined highlighting how to prevent sexual abuse and how to protect our children. He shared the correct and legal ways to approach the situation if need arises.

First Aid Training

A training session on child & adult First Aid was also conducted across all our schools pan India for all teachers and management staff. The trainers outlined and created awareness about the various emergency situations that are likely to arise and the effective first aid that has to be given for the same before the child is taken to the hospital. He gave a detailed overview of what is CPR (Cardio Pulmonary Resuscitation), what are the indications for CPR and how to perform child CPR. The session turned out to be very fruitful as the staff was also able to clarify all their doubts and queries pertaining to emergency and immediate care.

Documentation - A Powerful Learning Tool

At Vivero, facilitators recognize that it is important to document each child's competencies and his/ her specific understandings and find themselves continuously involved with systematic documentation of the various stages of the children's learning processes. As co-learners, Facilitators are driven to find out various ways on how to enrich the children's learning experiences through continuous observations.

The documented records act as a means of communication and allows teachers to once again highlight the learning experiences. This way, children benefit greatly when they see their efforts being recognised, appreciated and valued by adults. This not only reinforces their understanding but equips them with more confidence and encourages them to get even better by communicating with others.

Sharing of the documentation makes parents aware of their child's experiences at school and gives them a glimpse of how their child is thinking and learning. While documenting, the Facilitators 'listen' with all their senses to the hundreds of languages, symbols and codes that children use to express themselves and communicate. They record these languages using audio or visual tools, writing down notes, clicking photographs of the children. Transcripts of children's remarks and discussions, photographs of their activity, and representations of their thinking and learning are carefully arranged, to document the process of the children's learning. The teachers use these transcripts to create a Vivero Portfolio for each child. This portfolio is a developmental journal and another form of written documentation.

The Vivero Portfolio presents an in-depth observation of the child's activities, explorations and discoveries. It includes pictures of the child taken by the Facilitator during activities and engagements, a summary of the observations and a brief reflection of the Facilitator on the child's learning and the work samples created by him/ her reflecting a systematic summary of the child's development. The portfolios are used by the Facilitator during Parent Teacher Meetings to discuss the child's developments and the learning goals with the parents. Once the children move out of our care, the portfolios are handed over to the parents to retain them as a fond memory of the child's journey and development in her first school.

Apart from the portfolios, the projects that the Facilitators and the children undertake collaboratively are put up on the display boards in the classroom and other areas in the school. These provide for a powerful addition to the environment at school allowing children to immediately relate to their own work or work done by their peers; which serves to reiterate the subject that has been covered.

At Vivero, documentation and display of the children's work is not only done at the end of a particular unit or a project, but is seen as a cyclical routine.

One World, Many Tales- the magical world of storytelling

Fairytales and other stories interweave various art forms to create content that is captivating especially for children. These stories can also be used as a powerful literacy tool, or a theme for articulation through theatre, cinema or dance. So, this summer, with a promise to offer something that was guaranteed to make the hot days a whole lot more fun, Vivero International Pre-school and Child Care held the annual Summer Camp through the first few weeks of the holidays. The camp was a brilliant introduction into the world of storytelling for children in all its myriad forms, encouraging them to express, imagine and create.

It is true that the ageless magic of storytelling and their timeless enchantment never ceases to encourage children to imagine and express. A peek into the wonderful Summer Camp that took place at our Vivero Pre-schools and Child Care proves just that and more. Here is a gist of what the buzz was all about.

- What's in a Story - Children were taken through an engaging exploration into what makes a great story.
- Literato - Excited summer campers learnt about voice modulation and role play focusing on characters, mood and expression through stories. Vocabulary building through various games and charades articulating dialogues and emotions as well as using new words to create rhymes in stories were the other interesting features. Book etiquettes were also discussed when reading stories.
- Art attack - Mini art workshops on how to create a story setting by making puppets, designing costumes, accessories and the backdrop using paints, origami and more.
- Write a bite - Children learnt and practice some basic math concepts and built language skills as they experimented with different kinds of food using symbols and words to read or write recipes.
- Hop on Pop - Exploration of different stories in open spaces and expression through dance, drama, music and movement made the Summer Camp truly experiential.

At Vivero International, Powai the Summer Camp transformed into yet another fun-learning engagement. Children explored experiences which were designed to nurture their individual spirit of adventure and creativity. Apart from engaging activities including story-time, art & craftwork and water-play, children participated in various culinary preparations such as bhel, lemonade, and sandwich-making. Tossing a salad using healthy ingredients reached a new level of enjoyment. Fascinating stories of The Enormous Turnip, The Mixed-up Chameleon and The Lorax to name a few kept the children engrossed throughout. Children also presented the story of 'Acky the Squirrel' as the grand finale of the Summer Camp. The story itself was an original creation by the children and was brilliantly enacted to show how important it is to be kind to our friends.

Meanwhile, at Vivero International, Mahadevpura, Bengaluru children reportedly had an amazing time during the summer camp. Throughout the eventful three weeks, children learned the different methods of storytelling, expressions, voice modulations, role play, enacting, articulation, journal writing, set and costume designing and much more.

Children were explained about how a story can be transformed into drama. They learned about the various techniques involved while presenting a story. Different stages like script writing, setting up the stage, importance of a back-drop, designing costumes, characterization, photo shoot and background music were introduced and discussed. Children enthusiastically worked together to put up a show at the end of the Summer Camp as they confidently performed two musical plays using handmade props made by themselves. Children's journals, artwork and crafts were displayed for parents to see.

Various tales found their way into the culinary experience that was an integral part of the summer camp. This not only helped children cook-up creative meals but also helped in building basic maths and vocabulary.

At Vivero International, RMZ, Bengaluru, the Summer Camp whisked the participating children deep into the magical dwelling of 'STORYLAND'. The overall theme was to introduce and help understand the importance of storytelling with loads of fun. The Camp was an experiential exercise to develop children's language and thinking skills while at the same time work with them to help build their imaginative skills through the exploration of different stories.

Summer Camp at Vivero International, Indiranagar, Bengaluru was yet another occasion for fun, excitement, experiential learning and hands-on activities. Participating children were met with a treat of exhilarating experiences as they dived into the theme, “One World, Many Tales” filled with Puppet Shows, Culinary experiences and staged Dramatic engagements. A range of exciting activities were lined up all relating to a variety of stories from across the world. The icing on the cake was the Summer Camp Finale wherein children demonstrated their knowledge and skills learnt through the course of the camp as they performed a dramatic form of storytelling on stage.

Vivero International, Aundh, Pune saw children actively participate in various sessions that were designed to inspire imagination, arouse curiosity and encourage expression through different storytelling mediums. The central theme of ‘One World Many Tales’ involved interesting activities for the happy campers. Every child sure had a story to tell as they enjoyed culinary workshops, musical explorations, dramatic enactments and healthy scoops of outdoor fitness and games.

At Vivero International, Hitech City, Hyderabad children ventured into a magical world of storytelling, book reading and dramatization. Children were introduced to many age-appropriate books and a wide variety of art and craft activities based on those books. Along with fun games and enthralling explorations of stories through dance, drama, music and movement, the little campers also enjoyed the Master Chef culinary session where they had a sizzling experience preparing ‘spider snacks.’ On the culmination day, children presented a skit, “The monkey puzzle” by Julia Donaldson on stage with confidence and grace.

As a Reggio Emilia inspired pre-school, almost every prop or accessory at Vivero is made with natural and open-ended materials. At Vivero, Powai, a ‘story-quilt’ was created using old cloth pieces along with a variety of decorative items that were selected by the participating children at the camp. ‘Clay-Faces’ were made and decorated with pistachio shells. The campers in Vivero, Mahadevpura were taken to Brigade’s Rose garden to hunt for objects of different textures and once they came back, they had to sort them according to different textures and make a craft out of it. That was one of the most enjoyed activities during the summer camp.

Raising Responsible Citizens

Whilst we prepare our 21st Century Learners as Global citizens of tomorrow, an important part of our holistic curriculum at Vivero focuses on making children aware of their role in the community. Awareness and understanding begin with the introduction of the duties of a responsible citizen towards the society.

A significant part of projects and excursions are built around the subject - Civic engagements.

Vivero International, Manyata Tech Park, Bengaluru drove home an important campaign. Children armed with banners took to the corridors of Manyata Tech Park with a strong message that talked about the importance of 'healthy eating' and 'making greener choices'. The small activists attracted a surge of an interested audience and held their attention captive with their sincere civic message. This way, the children themselves realised how important it is to send out positive messages and realised the significance of their individual role in the community.

At Mahadevapura in Bengaluru, the K2 children of Vivero International carried out the theme of civic awareness by making a presentation on 'waste management'.

This civic drive began in the classrooms when children were gently provoked into thinking about the various ways in which they were managing waste at their homes. Most of the children already had a basic understanding of segregating dry and wet garbage into 2 different dustbins at home. The Facilitators further prompted the discussion to introduce the importance of Waste management as the need of the hour. Children were involved in various activities including making their own dustbins for the school. A presentation was prepared by the children for the support staff on how to segregate waste and why it was necessary to do so. They were also involved in making banners with slogans of "Swachh School Abhiyaan" after which they were involved in cleaning the school of visible waste.

Children at Vivero International, Hitech city, Hyderabad took up an activity highlighting the importance of 'Waste Management'. The Nursery children came together to segregate 'recyclable materials' from 'waste materials'. By doing this they learnt how some materials can be reused for a new purpose.

As part of a Civic Management activity, our young activists at Vivero International, Indiranagar, Bangalore went around and clicked pictures of public places that had garbage and waste material strewn about. The topic was discussed in the classroom with children actively speaking about their individual feelings and thoughts regarding the issue. Healthy brainstorming on the harmful effects of 'careless garbage disposal' on our environment and how we can help towards the situation by addressing them appropriately was discussed. Children came forward to express how they could and should contribute to a garbage-free environment.

The children of K2 from Vivero International, Whitefield, Bangalore undertook a Civic Management Initiative during one of their recent field trips to a nearby farm. The quest through their awareness campaign was to explore the farm and find out about the materials in the natural environment which could be 'used and reused in various ways'. Children took upon the duty of educating the local farmers about the importance of sustainability, using organic manure, making their own compost, recycling, reusing and saving water.

Onboarding the Parents

As we gear up for a new academic session, a fresh wave of excitement fills the bright spaces inside every Vivero International Pre-School & Child Care. Teachers along with the Support Staff take care to set up their classrooms; devoting lengthy hours designing the corners and spaces for their enthusiastic learners. This infectious air of anticipation fills every room and spreads through the colourful corridors to blend and mix with the surroundings outside.

And, just before the pitter patter of little feet floods the school, all parents are invited according to their class-groups to attend the customary Parent Orientation Day.

All parents are received with a warm welcome by the School Head and her team and ushered to the room set up with audio-visuals for a detailed presentation of the forthcoming academic year. The purpose of the presentation is to give an overview of the functioning of the school, inform of any change in policies and explain new features that have been introduced if any. A major part of the presentation is focused on providing clarity in the course of the curriculum, however, this is the ideal forum for parents to interact, question and clarify any doubt.

The school head also introduces the Facilitators for every class group to the parents. Parents are also encouraged to interact with the respective class teachers if they wish to.

Parents can then take a peek into their's child's classrooms, pick up the uniforms and notebooks etc.

The Parents Orientation winds up with a quick round of refreshments and distribution of the school collaterals and hand-outs, especially to the new parents.

Sujatha, Vivero International, Indiranagar, Bengaluru

I have been working with Vivero School for the past 6 years. When I joined the school I was new at this work style, as I had never worked with children before. I had no experience in the field. I wasn't even sure that I would be able to cope up with the work. As I started working in the field I started enjoying my work and also created a bond with children. The days would just fly by as the children kept us busy at all times. These children taught me many new things. Now I feel like I belong here. My colleagues and I are very happy here and we also like to work with the teachers as they are very understanding. Our Principal is also very nice and the entire staff is very co-operative. We all live here like one big happy family. I sincerely wish that school keeps progressing and reaches great heights.
